Graduation into God's Kingdom

LOS ANGELES STAFF MAN, Russ Hodder, shared with us recently that a man named Johnson was intently listening one evening to a testimony from his team member, Bette Bond, at the Newport pier. Talking with him after the meeting, Russ asked Johnson if what he had just heard made any sense to him. Johnson replied, "Yes, it's something I have been thinking about a long time." After questioning him further, Russ found out Johnson believed all he needed to know in order to trust Jesus as Savior. Russ asked Johnson if he had ever made that step of faith and when he said, "No," Russ asked him if he would like to make that step tonight. Johnson responded with an emphatic "Yes." When they had finished praying together, Johnson knew for sure he was part of God's family and rejoiced in that. Johnson is from Central California and was visiting Southern California for his niece's graduation; as it turns out, he too graduated - into God's kingdom!

Finding Peace In Times of War

On the frontline, bringing soldiers equipment, tools and of course New Testaments and other Christian literature.

THE WAR IN UKRAINE continues and our OAC staff man Anatoly, is finding many fruitful open doors where ministry can take place as a military Chaplain, even under such a difficult circumstances. He remembers one day receiving a call asking him to come to the frontline as soon as possible. When he arrived, it was a challenging situation including incoming fire and the soldiers needed encouragement, advice, moral and spiritual support. The troops immediately began asking Anatoly questions about God. He talked, prayed, and ministered for an extended time. In another frontline location, he ministered to the tank troopers straight away after their fighting and then was sent to the medical unit. There he had to help the doctors with the wounded, dispense medicines, pray with the wounded, answer difficult questions, and help load some into ambulances where they were transported to the hospital for treatment. The prayers of the soldiers were full of meaning and faith that the Lord hears and will surely come to their rescue. Continue to pray for Anatoly and others in that needy land during these days of military conflict.

OAC/USA is trusting the Lord to use this ministry to impact 25 cities in America with the Gospel through open-air evangelism and other ministry by means of strategic establishment of branch ministries by the year 2025.
